Investment Manager report

The year 2023 ended strongly with an increase of 7.9 percent for the Stockholm Benchmark Index during December. An increase that was mainly driven by sharp falls in long-term interest rates and the market is now pricing in the first US rate cut as early as March. Falling long-term interest rates mainly benefited the interest-sensitive companies, which meant that real estate and construction-related companies were winners during the month.

Norron Active performed in line with the Stockholm Benchmark Index and Hexagon, Vestum and Beijer Ref were the largest contributors. These companies have underperformed the market during the year and when the market sought risk, a buying pressure arose which moved the stock prices upwards. We have argued during the year that the market has been too short-term when it comes to these companies and has not seen the potential over time, especially when the mentioned companies did not have particularly large estimate revisions but earnings rather showed good resilience despite a somewhat weaker macro picture.

During the month, we made some minor changes in the portfolio. We have reduced the exposure to real estate companies after a very good return during the year and the sector has received valuations that have reached a more normal level. The holding in Ericsson has been divested as we find it difficult to argue for upside in profits next year together with the fact that the US is a tougher market when the operators choose to take it easy with their capex plans. We have bought Bravida shares, which we believe will benefit from a Swedish construction economy that is beginning to bottom out. We have also started to buy Thule after a weaker price trend during the latter part of the year. Consumer cash flow visibility will improve as interest rates have most likely peaked and are beginning to move downward, which should play Thule in the right direction.

A fund's historical return is no guarantee of future returns. The value of the fund units can both increase and decrease as a result of market developments and it is not certain that you will get back all the invested capital.

About Norron

Norron Asset Management, founded in 2010, is a Nordic asset manager with offices in Stockholm and Oslo. The company manages six funds with a focus on the Nordic capital markets. The fund offering includes absolute return funds as well as actively managed equity funds and fixed income funds. Norron is owned by the founders, staff and the Norwegian listed industrial investment company Aker ASA. Norron manages approximately SEK 14 billion and the funds are distributed mainly by market-leading Nordic savings platforms with a focus on occupational pension capital. Norron's geographical focus is the Nordic region and the managerial style is characterized by flexibility, openness and transparency. The company's combined expertise with well-defined guidelines combined with a healthy approach to management, which includes a rigorous approach to risk-taking, a sophisticated use of derivatives and a careful stock selection process, benefits our unit holders through a historically very competitive return.

The company was awarded a prize for Sweden's best equity fund in 2014 & 2015, and was awarded the fund company of the year 2015 by the magazine Privata Affärer. For 2016 and 2018, Norron was also awarded the Lipper Fund Awards for its management of Norron Active. To read more about the company, we refer to the website www.norron.com.

Taxonomy

Taxonomy is a classification tool within the EU that determines whether an activity is environmentally sustainable or not. This is a tool for speeding up the transition to a more sustainable economy.

In order for a company's so-called economic activity must be covered by the Taxonomy Ordinance and must be considered environmentally sustainable, the activity must meet certain rapid personnel criteria. Our data show the extent to which I can invest in economic activities that are taxonomy justified (covered by the Taxonomy Regulation and can be or become environmentally sustainable) and taxonomy adapted (economic activities that also deliver the fast personnel criteria for environmental sustainability). If the fund's eligibility is, for example, 30%, this means that 30% of the fund's holdings are covered by the Taxonomy Ordinance. The fund's Alignment may be the proportion of the fund's holdings that also meets the established criteria for environmental sustainability. In order to report the type of environmental sustainability in which the fund is invested, the fund's Adjustment is divided into three different sub-areas. These are Green (activities with already low greenhouse gas emissions), Transition (activities that through reduced emissions significantly help the transition to a climate-neutral economy) and Enabling (activities that enable other activities to significantly contribute to limiting climate change).

SDG Eng

The SDG report shows how the fund is weighted towards the UN's 17 global goals for sustainable development. The percentage indicates the proportion of the fund that focuses on the specific goal. It is common for companies to focus on more than one sustainability goal in their sustainability work. The fact that companies clearly report active and dedicated sustainability work is good for the environment and society. For us at Norron, this is also positive from a financing perspective as it facilitates our work of directing fund unit holders' capital towards companies that operate sustainably and long-term. In order to give a true and fair view of the fund's sustainability focus, the presentation of the sustainability objectives should be studied together with the fund's other sustainability criteria. In order to be able to offer investors a diversified portfolio, it is also important that the fund has the opportunity to invest in companies throughout our Nordic investment universe that work for long-term sustainable development. Norron has therefore chosen not to limit the fund's investments to only a few specific sustainability goals.

Investment Strategy

The Sub-Fund is a long only equity fund investing a minimum of 90 percent of its total net assets in equities and equity related instruments. The primary focus of the Sub-Fund is on the Swedish equity market, but the Sub-Fund may invest in all the Nordic equity markets. The Sub-Fund is actively managed without reference to a benchmark. The Sub-Fund may invest up to 10 percent of its total net assets in Nordic fixed income securities, money market instruments, cash and Cash Equivalents. The Sub-Fund will hold long positions directly, or through the use of financial derivative instruments. For this purpose the Sub-Fund may use exchange traded derivatives (including but not restricted to futures, options and forwards) on equities as well as on financial indices and exchange traded funds for investment purposes. The Sub-Fund will also be able to write options on assets it holds.
